THE BUSINESS CARNIVAL.

Shall We Have It in The Bleak December?

MATTER DISCUSSED LAST NIGHT.

To Have a General Trade Display-- Bicycle Parade, Fire Works, and An Entertainment Named.

Quite a number of our progressive citizens assembled last night in the K. of P. Hall to discuss the question of having a business carnival during the first week in December.

J. S. Hunter was called to the chair and the representatives of the press made secretaries. Short speeches were made by R. I. Katz, C. M. Vanstony, E. P. Wharton, Chas. L. Andrews and others. As this was a preliminary meeting the talks were short and to the point.

On motion the meeting adjourned subject to the call of the chairman.

This morning a committee, composed of the following, was appointed: A.
W. McAllister, J. L. Thacker, C. E.
Holton and W. G. Mebane. The object of this committee is to see what support the town will give the effort, both in good will and cash. Of course, of themselves, the committee cannot do it all. Let the good people of our city consider this question. No town in the State is so well located for a well conducted affair of this kind.
While the exact plans have not been determined upon, we believe the idea is to have a trades display, that is, a procession in which each branch of business is represented on a float or otherwise; also a bicycle parade, and fire works at night, some sort of entertainment at the Academy. A good band will be secured to furnish music.
The town will be decorated with flags and bunting, in fact everything to make the town lively and attractive.
We can do it if we will all pull together.

DON'T LIKE OUR JAIL.

What a Northern Man Thinks of Greensboro.

The editor of the Elmer (N. J.) Times, Mr. S. P. Foster, spent last night in the city. Yesterday afternoon he looked around the city and in the course of his rounds dropped in to see THE TELEGRAM.

"You have here one of the best towns I've seen in the South. It has the appearance of a thriving, growing city. But I don't like your jail. It is not in keeping with the other buildings of the town. I must say that I am surprised to find such a jail in such a thriving and hustling place."

And this is the opinion of all visitors to our city, and we may say the opinion is shared by a good many of our own people.

THE TELEGRAM hopes soon to see a jail here which will call forth the admiration of all visitors. The public buildings of a city are always the first to be noticed by strangers, and a town or community is largely judged by the character of the same.

Autumn's Loveliest Blooms.

The price for admission to the Chrysanthemum show will not deter any lover of the beautiful from attending that fine display of autumn's loveliest blooms which the ladies are arranging in the McAdoo building on East Market Street, and which will be open on Thursday and Friday, during both day and evening.

Admission to the show is only 10 cents for each time or 25 cents for a season ticket; children under twelve years 5 cents.

In connection with the flower display the ladies will serve a variety of refreshments, such as oysters stewed or fried, with coffee for 25 cents; a regular dinner or supper of chicken, ham, chicken-salad, turkey, cranberries, celery, pickles etc, and coffee for 25 cts.
Varieties of ice cream and cake at the usual prices.

Surely these combined attractions ought to draw even the busiest of our people around to the chrysanthemum show to delight the eye and to refresh the inner man with such tempting viands.

A Small Blaze.

The fire alarm last night at 6 o'clock was responded to in a jiffy by the fire department. The alarm was turned in because of a small blaze at Dr. William's residence on Perry street. The fire only burned a small place around a chimney and was extinguished before the fire ladders reached the scene.

WATTERSON ON LINCOLN.

Glitters With the Gloss and Velvet of Luxurious Rhetoric.

Last night was a memorable occasion in Minneapolis. At the Lyceum Theater a large audience assembled to listen to a great citizen of the republic, perhaps the greatest citizen of the republic, a man who has exerted a mighty influence upon his generation, although never attaining to any public honor higher than that of a great citizen. Henry Watterson, the gifted Kentuckian, a son of the South, stood up in the simplicity and grandeur of his citizenship and paid his tribute to the greatest citizen, the greatest man, that ever breathed a benediction on mankind.

Watterson's lecture on Lincoln was the quiet, scholarly, analytic and anecdotal presentation of a theme that furnishes a wealth of material for the philosopher and sage to touch with the beautifying hand of genius and make it glorious to mankind. He spoke in a simple, conversational manner, wholly unostentatious, plain and quiet, and as unaffected as the great man that he inspired and thrilled his heart. For two hours he held the audience completely in his power, for he spoke as one who, from a perfect understanding, from a wealth of knowledge and insight, lovingly interprets the genius, the glory and the immortal splendor of character and achievement of a heroic soul. He began in the most quiet way imaginable, and gradually, under the thrill of his theme, he acquired an eloquence that, if it was not sensational, was direct, captivating and satisfying.

And when he came to the glowing peroration where his lecture reaches the heights of true eloquence, and glitters with the gloss and velvet of luxurious rhetoric, leaving upon all minds that fall beneath its influence a holy benediction, he stood on tip-toe, his frame quivered, his voice was emotional and grand, his attitude rugged and dramatic, and his very soul spoke in the sublime words, "Where did Shakespeare get his genius? Where did Mozart get his music?" But, after all, nothing can be said that will convey an adequate conception of the significance of the occasion. It was a great man, a representative man and a Southern man as well, weaving a tribute of sublime beauty for a man that he had known and loved in life. Watterson's lecture will be remembered as an inspiring scene, as a gracious blessing, as a superb effort.—Minneapolis (Minn.) Times, March 6, 1895.

Hon. Henry Watterson will lecture at the Normal and Industrial College next Saturday night. There should be a large crowd present to hear the gifted Kentuckian.

Hussey Sued Him.

John B. Hussey, a newspaper correspondent of Washington, and who formerly resided in Greensboro, at one time being editor of The Patriot in this city, is after United States Marshal Carroll with a sharp stick.
In the Statesville Landmark we read the following account of the business:

In Raleigh last week John B. Hussey, formerly of this State, now of Washington, secured judgment before a magistrate against U. S. Marshal Carroll, of the district, for $25. Carroll appealed. Hussey says Carroll owes him $100 for services rendered in assisting him to keep his job. Carroll says the only thing in the whole matter is that Hussey, as a newspaper correspondent, said some nice things about him; that he met Hussey and thanked him and proposed to present him with a hat or suit of clothes; that Hussey declined his offer but afterward, on two different occasions, drew on him for $25; that he refused the drafts and Hussey brought suit. He says he never employed Hussey at any time.

A COMMAND DISOBEYED.

Marion Elks Refuse to Expel Fitzsimmons.

Marion, Ind., Nov. 9.—The Marion lodge of Elks some time ago admitted Robert Fitzsimmons as a member.
The action being an alleged violation of the rules of the order, the Marion lodge was lately commanded by the grand exalted ruler to expel Fitzsimmons. The lodge today decided to stand by its initiation and refuse to act until the matter is finally decided by the supreme grand ruler of the order, H. B. Detmore, of Harrisburg, Pa.

Montreal, Nov. 10.—The authorities of McGill University contemplate prohibiting football at the University as a consequence of rough playing that has been indulged in by teams visiting Montreal.

SMILE OF FRIGHTENED MAN

On Thorne's Face This Morning
While

MRS. NACK MAKES CONFESSION

To Her Part in the Coolly Planned Murder--Spectators Crowd The Room and Stare at Them.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Long Island City, Nov. 10.—Lawyer Howe was the first to arrive today. He said Mrs. Nack's confession was a great surprise to him and he could not undertake to say what effect it would have upon the jury. He declared that he would go right ahead with the case any way.

Mrs. Nack was placed on the stand the first thing after court opened this morning. She began by relating her early life in Germany, her marriage and acquaintance with Guldensuppe.
She told how Thorne had asked her to give Guldensuppe up and reviewed the conversation in which he planned to kill him and express his body to Germany.

Mrs. Nack was very nervous and Thorne gazed at her intently as she recited a full history of the crime as per her confession just sent in another dispatch.

The court room was densely packed and occasionally the spectators would stand up to get a better view of the prisoner and the witness.

Thorne, at times during Mrs. Nack's recital of the story, would smile but it was evidently the smile of a man badly frightened and trying hard to conceal it.

MRS. NACK CROSS EXAMINED.

At 3 o'clock the defense has finished with Mrs. Nack. Attorney Howe put her on the rack severely, compelling her to admit that she aided in wrapping up the lower part of Guldensup-pe's body.

She was shown photographs of parts of the trunk, at which she gazed with out emotion. Howe asked her how many children she had killed and she replied that so far as she knew she had never killed any. She denied that she had ever offered money to have her husband assassinated. She said that she had never loved Thorne, but had feared him and had made him believe she loved him. She did not cut the body up. She said Thorne told her all about the murder.

Mrs. Nack also admitted on cross-examination that she took Guldensup-pe's clothes to New York and burned them. She said she bought the oil cloth to tie up the body; that she did not cry then; that the oil cloth was bought before the murder was committed; that she cried when she heard that Guldensuppe was shot. She also admitted knowing that Guldensup-pe was being taken to Woodside to be killed and that the object in getting him there was to kill him because he was her lover.

EXPERT JAIL BREAKER.

J. A. Thomas Flakes His Escape from Memphis Lock-up.

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 9.—J. A.
Thomas, the forger, made his second escape from the jail here early this morning by sawing the bars of his cell and afterward sawing the bars of the window in the jail, after which the escape was made easy.

Thomas had made himself famous by his previous escapes from jails here and at Chicago, and his subsequent marriage with Miss Fannie Rutherford, of Minneapolis, at St. Louis.
Three other prisoners charged with minor offenses also escaped after Thomas had made the way clear.

Cuban Annexationists Restrained.

Havana, via Key West, Fla., Nov.
9.—The annexationist have received through the columns of a newspaper of this city a hint that it will be well to abandon their meetings. The article in question conveyed the intimation that the club was to be proceeded against as a gambling institution, under which pretext it would be possible to cause its members a great deal of trouble, without going to the length of accusing them of conspiracy. The secret meetings have, therefore, been discontinued.

THREATENING JUDGE DICK.

On Account of the Asheville Bank Scandal.

A special from Asheville to this morning's Charlotte Observer says: Judge Dick last night received a long anonymous letter breathing abuse and threats of violence for his action in reducing the bail and continuing the cases of Brees, Penland and Dickerson, the indicted First National Bank officers. The judge's unknown correspondent says: "Ah, my Christian brother, this is what makes lynchings in our country and that is just what is going to happen in this case.
If you don't, before you leave the bench in Asheville, raise their bonds and set a special term of court for a speedy trial, you will be a party to the crime by your leniency to these criminals."

Judge Dick referred to the letter in court today, saying that if counsel for the defendants discover any spirit such as the letter indicates, there would better be a change of venue. District Attorney Holton said the court did right in continuing the cases. "I had the suggestion," he added, "from the Comptroller of the Currency at Washington that the cases should be continued to the May term. This was made by the Comptroller upon the suggestion from these bank officers that they would make whole the de-positors."

Judge Dick then told counsel for the defense that if at any time there was any sign of violence they should surrender the defendants to the officers of the United States and the whole power of the government would be used for their protection.

RELATIVITY MEASURES.

Scotch Joiners Forbidden to Use American Material.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Glasgow, Nov. 10.—The officials of the Joiners union have posted notices in all the shops of this city forbidding members of the union to hang any doors made in the United States or to use manufactured joinery imported from America for the alleged reason that speculative builders will soon be importing large quantities of all classes of manufactured wood.

Presidential Appointments.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.
Washington, Nov. 10.—The President today made the following appointments:

Chas. W. Kendrick, of Louisiana, Consul General to Monterey, Mexico.
Archibald A. Young, Surveyor of Customs Post, at Indianapolis.
John H. Dawson, Special Examiner of drugs, medicines and chemicals, for the District of San Francisco.

Butterworth Slightly Better.

By wire to THE TELEGRAM.
Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 10.—Butter-worth's condition this morning was reported as slightly better. He passed a comfortable night and his chances of recovery are better than at any time since the beginning of his illness.

No Indian Uprising.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.
Winnipeg, Nov. 10.—Reports received here from Regina and Elkhorn say there is absolutely no truth in the statement of a threatened Indian uprising. There are no Reigan Indians in the locality nearer than Saskatchewan.

Another Seal Conference.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.
Washington, Nov. 10.—Arrangements have been perfected for the first meeting of the British and American seal experts at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the State Department.

Hanged in Raleigh.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.
Raleigh, N. C. Nov. 9.—Sam Wright the negro charged with attempting to assault a white girl was hanged today.

Licenses Renewed.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.
London, Nov. 10.—The licenses of the music halls were renewed today without opposition.

Chief Artichoke is Dead.

Tomah, Wis., Nov. 9.—Ah-Oo-Choo-Kah (Artichoke), the oldest member of his tribe, and probably the oldest person in Monroe county, is dead.
Artichoke was a Winnebago Indian, and he had been a chief or medicine man of the tribe for many years. His age is not positively known, but it is given at from 105 to 125 years. He was a brother of Chief Dandy, who was a power and ruler over the tribe fifty years ago.

CONFESSION OF MRS. NACK.

She Makes Public The Horrible
Details of The Crime.

HAD NO SHARE IN THE KILLING.

The Head Was Wrapped in Plaster of Paris and Thrown into The River-- Crime Planned Week Ahead.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

New York, Nov. 9.—The confession of Mrs. Augusta Nack implicating Martin Thorne in the brutal murder of Guldensuppe was given out this morning. She repeats in minute detail all the horrible and gruesome circumstances surrounding the revolting butchery as confessed by Thorne to his barber Garcia. Mrs. Nack says she persuaded Guldensuppe to go to the Woodside cottage. She waited outside while Thorne shot him. This was about ten o'clock in the morning. After the dastardly crime had been perpetrated she and Thorne left the cottage together. About five o'clock Thorne returned with some oil cloth, cheese cloth and wrapping paper which she had purchased. He butchered Guldensuppe whom he found still breathing and hauled his body away.
His head was encased in plaster of paris and thrown into the river.

Mrs. Nack denies that she had any share in the killing of Guldensuppe though she admits that she aided Thorne before and after the killing.
She declares that the crime was planned weeks ahead. The confession was made on last Sunday and will be put in as state's evidence. Mrs. Nack will probably take the stand against her lover.

WORKING ON THE DESIGNS.

Secretary Gage's Improvement of the Paper Money.

Washington, Nov. 10.—Superintendent Johnson, of the bureau of engraving and printing, has artists at work on the designs of the new styles of currency. The new money, it will be remembered, was approved by Secretary Gage, and instructions were issued for the preparation of final designs. The designs of the $1 and $2 bills will be submitted to Secretary Gage at once. If they are satisfactory he will order plates made, and printing will commence. Minor changes in both, however, are likely to delay the issuing of the new money for a number of weeks. It will be months before all denominations of the new currency are turned out.

The vignette or emblem of the $1 bill has been definitely decided on. It is to be a big eagle in the center of the bill.

A MAD CIGAR-MAKER.

Shot His Father-in-Law and the Latter's Son and Killed Himself.

Philadelphia, Nov. 9.—Charles Gerbach, a cigar manufacturer on Norris street, near Fourth today attempted to kill his father-in-law, Frederick Fritz and the latter's son, Joseph, of 2,020 North Fourth street, by shooting them.
He then sent a bullet through his own brain and died soon after being admitted to the Episcopal Hospital.
Fritz and his son are bottlers, and are said to be wealthy.

The shooting occurred in Fritz's shop, and is said to have been due to some dispute over business. The elder Fritz was but slightly wounded, and his son was not dangerously though severely wounded.

WALES ORDERS A NEW YACHT.

Will Measure Eighty Tons and Follow Model of the Bona.

Glasgow, Nov. 9.—The Petersons have booked an order for an eighty-ton racing cutter for the Prince of Wales. The designs of the new yacht were drawn by George L. Watson, and it is believed she will be of the type of Bona, the cutter of the Duke of Abruzzi, nephew of the King of Italy.

The Prince of Wales has retained the services of Captain Carter, the late commander of the Britannia.

Dock Damaged.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.
Brooklyn, Nov. 9.—The Royal Plantation Coffee Company Mill and Atlantic dock was damaged by fire this morning. Loss forty thousand dollars.

Facts Worth Studying.

If the Southern Stock-Mutual pays no larger dividends than the 20 per cent. now paid, and the business increases during the next seven years in the same ratio it has increased during the last three years, the actual saving for the ten years to policy-holders in North and South Carolina will be $194,822.00, and to the policy-holders in Greensboro alone, $26,237.00. Besides this the Company's assets (reinsurance reserve and surplus) represented by still larger figures will be kept at home and invested in the state.
What better investment can the public make than by upholding an institution like this?

The political arithmetic that figures Nebraska in the doubtful column must be a piece of doubtful mathematics.

The silence of Mr. Marion Butler with regard to those passes in his political family is of the most profound and opaque nature.

Mr. McKinley is still starting his charity at home by appointing another Canton mechanic to a consulate. A great neighbor is McKinley.

Not the least appalling feature of a possible war with Spain is the multitude of pensioners who would come out of the struggle to deplete the government treasury for the next five hundred years.

The reception of General Blanco in Cuba was what is commonly termed coldly polite, while Spain is preparing to give General Weyler an exceptionally warm one of the kind he gets when he comes back from a fishing.

Is the rantankerous war that the New York Sun is making on democracy to be taken as a result of the zeal of the recent convent, or does it spring from the traitor's desire to forget his treachery in malignant pursuit of the betrayed? Here is a problem for the psychologist.

AS TO NON-PARTISANSHIP.

One might be led to suppose by reading certain papers that the non-partisan is a brand new product of latter day conditions; that the mugwump was unknown to other peoples; that history has no trimmers; that the independent, the trimmer, the mugwump, the non-partisan is at once the creature and the savior of American politics. And there may be two points of view as to that.

There is a tendency, marked enough, too, to hold up the non-partisan as the only true patriot, to emphasize the fact that "he places country above party" and does many other graceful and liberal things. This is true in a measure. In a measure it is not true.

It does not follow of necessity that the non-partisan is a patriot. We have all met and been disgusted by the rabid, no-good-can-come-out-of-Nazareth type of partisan. We have also met the non-partisan who is such because he lacks the courage to be partisan, and we call him contemptuously a mugwump.

There is an assumed superiority about the independent in politics of the present that the facts will hardly warrant. Mr. Seth Low ran for mayor of New York as an independent; it is possibly a bad thing for New York that he was not elected; there is no need, however, since he was not for either Mr. Low or Mr. Low's adherents to set up claims to a martyr's crown for him. In reality the position of Mr. Low, as of all non-partisans, was one of sublime egotism and it is hard to censure his fellow citizens for resenting it.

Whatever the independent may claim he is essentially a man of weak convictions; he is more or less of a political Ishmael, his hand against every man; he is serviceable only as a balance wheel; he is never positive, never dynamic, never an executive; he is always a shifter, a neutral, a negative quantity. The independent has not been a maker of history.

Is it not possible that we are congratulating ourselves too heartily on the tendency of vast bodies of voters to swing from party to party? Is it an unalloyed good? It argues independence of thought, we are told; it argues also lack of conviction. Where do we find most of these independents? Precisely in the centers of unrest; in the places where Americanism least abounds; in cities where the population is most conglomerate and heterogeneous and—most dangerous. The smaller towns and rural communities are the unwavering strongholds of the one party or the other.

The history of the nation is the history of its two great political parties. The greatest men of the nation have fought within the lines of these parties for what they conceived to be the nation's good. Washington and Jefferson, Adams and Monroe, Lee and Lincoln were partisans.

There is no questioning a man's right to leave his party when his views diverge from its fundamental tenets. Let him go. He may be better than his party, he may also be worse; he may be wiser than its policy, he may also be incurably a fool.

Let us not forget that the partisan may be the true liberal and the independent the most bitter and narrow partisan.

MRS. NACK CONFESSES.

She Will Go on the Witness Stand Against Thorne.

New York, Nov. 9.—The Herald tomorrow will say: Emanuel Friend, counsel for Mrs. Augusta Nack, was at the Harlem opera house last night. It was noticed that when he came into the lobby that he appeared nervous and excited. His extreme nervousness caused some comment, and he remarked casually that he had just returned from a long interview with his client, Mrs. Nack. He sat half the play through and on coming out said:

Mrs. Nack has confessed; that is all I can say. She has confessed and will go on the stand against Thorne. I cannot talk about the matter any further. I have made a solemn promise of secrecy; there is no use trying to see me later—there is no use trying to see any one else. Even Mr. Howe does not know. The few others who do know are pledged to secrecy, as I am. I shall go home, disconnect my telephone and refuse to see any one or answer any questions. Mrs. Nack has made a confession; that's all I can say.

DOES NOT WANT WAR.

Sagasta Declares That Spain's Sentiments are Pacific.

Madrid, Nov. 9.—In response to a cable message from a non-official American source, Senor Sagasta, the Premier, has sent the following cable declaration through Senor Dupuy de Lome, the Spanish minister at Washington:

"So far from seeking a great pretext to declare war against the United States, Spain would regard it as a great misfortune to be given the occasion for such an unhappy resolution. Animated as she is by the most amicable sentiments towards the great republic, Spain hopes of America that the latter will do its utmost to fortify sentiments of friendship for the sake and welfare of both countries, while at the same time respecting the rights of Spain."

Crocker's Horse Won.

London, Nov. 8.—At Lingfield Park today Richard Crocker's three-year-old bay Willy Georgians won the Chellows plate. This race is of 100 sovereigns, for three-year-olds and upwards, winner and second horses free. There were six starters over the course, one mile straight. R. Devereaux's Yours was second and W. Homfray's Bantry Bay third.

The Elder Arrives.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 9.—The steamer Elder arrived last night with thirty passengers and eighty sacks of letters and mail.

The Grandest Remedy.

Mr. R. B. Greeve, merchant, of Chilhowie, Va., certifies that he had consumption, was given up to die, sought all medical treatment that money could procure, tried all cough remedies he could hear of, but got no relief; spent many nights sitting up in a chair, was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery, and was cured by use of two bottles. For past three years has been attending to business, and says Dr. King's New Discovery is the grandest remedy ever made, as it has done so much for him and also for others in his community. Dr. King's New Discovery is guaranteed for coughs, colds and consumption. It doesn't fail. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store.

A REMARKABLE RUN.

Heavy Train Makes a Long Distance Record That Will Not Soon Be Equalled.

Among the numerous fast runs recently made there appears to be one which did not get properly reported. It was on the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago, and, though it may not break many records, it is worthy of note. The west bound New York and Chicago limited, six cars, made up 59 minutes between Fort Wayne and Chicago, running 148.8 miles in 171 minutes, or at the average rate of 52 miles an hour. The time to be deducted for stops and reductions of speed is 24 minutes, making the net speed 60.6 miles an hour.

From G. R. and I. Junction to Colehour, 132.6 miles, the time was 181 minutes, equal to 60.7 miles an hour; from Hamlet to Colehour, 55.4 miles, 60 minutes, rate 60.5; Wheeler to Hamlet, 8.7 miles, 8 minutes, rate 74. The train was run from Plymouth to Chicago, 84 miles, without taking water. The engine was No. 147, and it was manned by Engineer Herbert and Fireman Barber. The weight of the train was 628,687 pounds. Of the trains which have heretofore made as fast time as this for such long distances few, if any, have been so heavy. Lighter trains have made better time and heavier trains have made records approaching this, but no record in which so heavy a train was run so far at such high speed.—Railway Gazette.

WOMEN RETALIATE.

Will Take Off Their Hats if Men Will Not Go Out Between Acts.

The ladies of Atlanta recently took steps by which they propose to get even with the gentlemen who secured the passage of the anti-hat ordinance. A number of the most noted society women met and discussed the matter fully. The point was made that the stampede of the men for the outside between the acts was much more annoying than the presence of a few high hats.

A telephone message was sent to Mayor Collier asking him to make his appearance before the ladies. As the mayor is a widower, and still a young man, he found himself in an embarrassing position to be thus surrounded by 20 of the most charming debutantes of the city. The demand was made of him that an ordinance should be rushed through the city council making it "disorderly conduct" for a gentleman to leave his seat between the acts.

The mayor assented to the proposition and has instructed the preparation of the ordinance to Colonel Hutchinson, the leader of his party in the city council. The newspapers of Atlanta are advocating the cause of the ladies with all enthusiasm.—Exchange.

BITES OF MAD CATS.

They Are More Serious Than Those Inflicted by Rabid Dogs.

According to the returns just published by the Pasteur institute at Paris, fully 10 per cent of the patients treated there owe their injuries to the bites of cats afflicted with hydrophobia. These wounds are considered by the medical officers in attendance to present a greater degree of danger than the bites of mad dogs.

This is not because there is any difference in the virus, but because, in the first place, the teeth of cats, being more pointed than those of dogs, inflict a deeper wound, and also because a mad dog usually fastens his fangs into the arm, the hand or the leg, while a cat invariably jumps for the face of the person it attacks. The nerve centers are far more exposed in the face than in either the arms or legs, and hence the virus enters into the circulation more rapidly by means of a bite in the face than through one elsewhere in the body. It may be added that the returns of the Pasteur institute for the last year show that 1 per cent of the patients who have submitted themselves to treatment have been bitten by mad cows.—New York Tribune.

Wife Foresaw Husband's Death.

There was something weird and uncanny about the recent death of Franklin J. Bond in Camden, N. J. About a month ago Bond's young wife lay upon her deathbed. Almost her last words were, "Frank, you'll soon follow me." Soon after Mrs. Bond's funeral her husband was taken ill, but no fears were entertained for him. It was thought that worry and anxiety incident to his wife's illness and death had upset him and that a few days' quiet rest would soon restore him. He went to Cresco, near Mount Pocono, Pa., and his friends and relatives thought he was getting on nicely. He suddenly grew worse, however, and was hurried to his home. He never rallied, but continued to grow worse until death came.—Philadelphia Record.

Made Brokers Spend Money.

Trinity church clock, New York, has cost Wall street men money recently, which has gone into the pockets of the cabmen. The clock has been five minutes fast, and as that is less margin than a busy broker usually allows for delay in getting to a train or boat, a look at the clock has created just enough distrust of his own timepiece to decide him to take a cab rather than run for the train or boat.

A Plea For the Millionaire.

The plea is known to be most sympathetic in the commoner cases of grief. And they sell at bazars many knickknacks for the purpose of giving relief. We never have lacked for expressions of sorrow for people in poverty's snare. But there's one for whose grievance no trouble we borrow—We're forgetting the millionaire. Consider the gibes and the heartless elation exhibited when he's distressed. Remember how oft he is scared by taxation. And tempted to move westward. Observe how the farmer for wheat will go money. While Wall street must wait for a share. And instead of attempting to sneer and be funny. Be kind to the millionaire.—Washington Star.

Land Sale

By virtue of a mortgage deed executed by John Bethel and wife Fannie Bethel, on the 28th day of October, 1896, to J. W. Kerr, (since dead) and in consequence of a failure to pay the debt secured by said mortgage, I will sell to the highest bidder, for cash, at the court house door in Greensboro, N. C., on Saturday, December 4th, 1897, the lands described in said mortgage, butted and bounded as follows: Beginning on northeast corner of street thence north 60 degrees east along westerly side of said street 10 1-2 poles, thence north 30 degrees west 10 1-2 poles to north side of said street, thence 87 degrees east with said street 14 poles to the beginning, containing one acre, more or less. There is reserved from this sale the lot out of this boundary heretofore sold to Frank Fields. The above mortgage is recorded in book 102, page 77, in the office of the register of deeds, Nov. 4, 1897. LAURA KERR, Executrix of J. W. Kerr, deceased.

Your Thanksgiving Turkey

should be tender and baked to a turn; your mince pie brown and flakey for your Thanksgiving feast. If you haven't a satisfactory oven, prepare beforehand by getting one of our Peninsular Ranges or Cooking Stoves. They are Superior bakers and you can depend on your dinner being a success. It will save you more in worriment and spoiled victuals than you will have to pay for one. We still sell the Old Reliable Woodlawn Stove, and many other cheaper stoves, all of which we guarantee to give satisfaction.

LATEST FROM DAWSON CITY.

Returned Prospector Confirms Reports of Scarcity of Food.

Nanaimo, B. C., Nov. 9.—The steamer George W. Elder has arrived here. Among her passengers was Donald Nicholson, who left Dawson Sept. 23. Mr. Nicholson says the food problem was a most perplexing question when he left Dawson. Seven steamers were then overdue.

Nicholson says that Skookum Gulch proved an absolute failure outside of one claim. He believed the country to be rich, but it can never be properly developed until provisions are cheaper. Work is plenty at $1.50 per hour.

V. Wallace, of this city, has received an order from a New York house for 600 bushels of chestnuts.—Salisbury World.

Something to Know.

It may be worth something to know that the very best medicine for restoring the tired out nervous system to a healthy vigor is Electric Bitters. This medicine is purely vegetable, acts by giving tone to the nerve centres in the stomach, gently stimulates the liver and kidneys, and aids these organs in throwing off impurities in the blood. Electric Bitters improves the appetite, aids digestion, and is pronounced by those who have tried it as the very best blood purifier and nerve tonic. Try it. Sold for 50c or $1.00 per bottle at C. E. Holton's drug store.

A GIRL'S GREAT LUCK.

Marvelous Result of a Young Lady's First Venture at Monte Carlo.

A private letter from Monte Carlo recounts an extraordinary run of luck made recently by one of the players, an American girl, at a roulette table. She went there merely to see the gambling, of which she had heard so much, and, becoming excited, obtained permission from her escort to venture one gold piece, and one only. If she lost it, she would play no more. If she won, she would play with her winnings until they were gone.

She placed the coin on No. 18, and the turn of the wheel was in her favor. Her escort entered into an animated argument with her to take what she had gained and to be content with her experience. She reminded him of the terms of the agreement, and while the controversy was going on the croupier gave another turn to the wheel, which, when it stopped, showed the same number as winner. As her money had remained on the table it was increased thirtyfold.

Again urged to remove her gains and to cease playing, she became angry and left the money on the same number with the intention of losing it. Once more the ball stopped in No. 18, and her single gold piece had increased to a handsome little fortune, which she was at length prevailed upon to pocket. Oddly enough, the next turn of the wheel stopped at the same number, but as it had already come up three times nobody played it.—Boston Herald.

ANOTHER MASTODON.

A Boy Finds the Bones of Some Huge Extinct Animal.

A son of Benjamin H. Cox of Cincinnati while "prospecting" recently on a five acre tract belonging to his father near Southside discovered the bones of an extinct mammal on a hillside, where it had been washed out from under the rocks by heavy rains. The vertebrae were intact, and a tooth over six inches long, in a remarkably well preserved state, was found.

The size of the bones indicated that the animal, whatever it was, must have been of gigantic proportions and belonged to the prehistoric period. It was probably a mastodon. From the measurement of the remains that were unearthed it is supposed that the animal was about 12 feet high, exceeding the height of the ordinary elephant of the present day. Young Cox preserved the tooth and will make further explorations of the grounds, after which all the collections made will be presented to the Historical society of Cincinnati.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

GOOD ROADS IN PROSPECT.

Uncle Sam Will Lay Steel Tracks For Wagon Traffic.

The United States department of agriculture proposes to lay in the center of country roads two flat steel tracks of sufficient width for ordinary farm wagon traffic. These tracks are to be seven-sixteenths of an inch thick and will be bedded in gravel laid in trenches and fastened together at the joints and in the center.

On hills they will be corrugated to enable horses to obtain a firm foothold. Such a road is expected to be durable and to reduce the tractive resistance from 40 pounds per ton on a macadam surface to 8 pounds per ton on the steel tracks. On a short road the cost for tracks and fittings would be $3,500 per mile. A line several miles in length could be built for $2,000 per mile. This is for track weighing 100 tons per mile. A track for lighter traffic and weighing less could be built proportionately cheaper.—Exchange.

Mortgage Lost in the Mail.

The mortgage for $750,000 which the Iowa Union Telephone company gave to the Illinois Trust company has been lost in the mails. The document has traveled through nearly every county in Iowa where the Iowa Union company does business to be recorded. It has always been mailed in a tin tube. When the mail reached Grundy Center, the tube was found, but the mortgage was gone. It is not presumed that it was stolen, as it would be of little value to any one but the rightful owners. The opinion prevails that it became separated from the covering and will yet turn up. If not, a duplicate mortgage will be made, and it must be recorded in all the counties the original visited.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Fate of the Klondike Clan.

Twelve husky miners on the sea adrift North bound for the Klondike in a speedy boat.

All thought Alaska was the miners' heaven. One "retired" on the way, and they were eleven.

Eleven husky miners reached Juneau, and then one thought he'd stay till spring, which gave the party ten.

Ten husky miners, who never saw a mine. One "flunked" at Dena. reducing them to nine.

Nine husky miners, with a lot of freight. One "passed" at Chilkat and made the number eight.

Eight husky miners, by ambition driven. One stopped with frozen feet and left it to the seven.

Seven husky miners in a nasty fix. One fell in the river; saw him drown did six.

Six husky miners, all of them alive. One crossed the "big divide," which made the living five.

Five husky miners, hungry, cold and "sore." One of the "soreness" died cold, hungry staid the four.

Four husky miners' a boat made of a tree. The tree fell on the fourth one and left the comrades three.

Three husky miners, nearly struggled through. One died from scurvy and "ahook" the other two.

Two husky miners—Land of Midnight Sun. A fatal case of sunstroke made the dozen one.

One husky miner in the frigid zone. Couldn't stand the bill of fare, and so there was none.

Are You Subject to Attacks of COLIC?

If So, There is No Need to Suffer.

Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy

WILL CURE YOU

For several years I had been subject to severe attacks of cramp colic. Sometimes they would last me an hour and hardly a week passed that I did not have several attacks. I tried everything that was suggested, but found no relief. During these attacks the muscles of the arm and leg were terribly drawn and the whole body was cramped. I was advised to try Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy, which gave me relief at once, but not until I had taken two dozen bottles was I entirely cured. It was eight years ago since I took the remedy, and I have not had a touch of the trouble since.

THE KLONDYKE SOCIAL.

A Novel and Delightful Affair at the Rectory.

The Klondyke social given by the ladies of St. Barnabas Episcopal church at the rectory yesterday evening was something fresh and original in the social way.

There were large boxes filled with saw-dust in which the nuggets were buried and all was beautifully decorated with flowers. In the corners of the room were more claims but they were all staked long before the reception was over.

The ladies who had the affair in charge were dressed in white and gold and wore yellow chrysanthemums. At the door guests were furnished with picks, spades and digging implements generally, done in bronze, and they served the double purpose of excavation and as mementoes.

The menu cards were fish shaped to be in keeping with the Klondyke. Lindau's automatic yellow kid presided gravely over the realm where the claims were located. The rooms were crowded by a gay throng from eight to eleven o'clock and, there was no doubt about the success of the Klondyke social.

Some excellent musical selections were given, Mr. Z. V. Taylor, Miss Annie Shober and Miss Grace Clary singing solos that were warmly and justly encored. Mr. Woodroffe also gave a violin selection, which was greatly enjoyed.

Refreshments committee was composed of Mrs. J. L. Fonda, Mrs. W. B. Bogart, Mrs. Lama Jones, Mrs. E. A. Miller.

Attendants at tables: Misses Grace Clary, Mary Clary, Gertrude Feagan, Ethel Blackburn, Maggie Callum.

Door-keeper: Mrs. E. F. Brantly.

Superintending the diggers: Mrs. J. S. Cardwell, Misses Aminto Fonda, Jennie Harvie.

BUTLER GIVEN UP.

Bondsman Surrender Him and He Goes Back to Jail.

W. P. Butler, one of the important witnesses in the Hammond murder case has been given up by his bondsmen and he was placed back in jail this morning. Butler together with two other witnesses, was placed in jail on the night after the murder of "Red" Averitt by Gilmore Hammond, but later he gave bond and was released.

Recently his bondsmen decided that they would rather give him up than run the risk of having him leave the city.

Hammond, the accused man, is taking life easy—as easy as he can in a cell. He is very cool when engaged in conversation, and seems confident that he will come out all right. The court at which he will be tried will convene on the 22nd of this month, two weeks from yesterday.—Salisbury Sun.

Mrs. A. Halthcock Dead.

The sad message came trembling over the wires yesterday to her relatives and friends in this city that Mrs. A. Halthcock had died at her home in Hickory. She has been suffering with paralysis for four or five years, and her death was not altogether unexpected.

Mrs. Halthcock was the mother of Mr. S. S. Halthcock, of this city, and the grandmother of Mrs. J. R. Donnell. Mrs. Donnell left last night for Hickory to attend the funeral today. Mr. Halthcock was already there.

THE TELEGRAM extends its sympathy to the bereaved.

Some Improvements.

The sidewalk on South Elm by the new Groome building is being newly laid with brick. The walk around the corner on Lewis street has been widened and will also be laid with new brick.

Too Strong to Carry Coal.

Many a man who is strong enough to play golf all day, or "hold out" a hundred pounds finds a scuttle of coal too heavy to lift.

The trouble is that a great deal of coal is full of slate. Slate is heavy and it won't burn.

We sell coal that's all coal. A lump of it is lighter than a lump of slatey coal and there's a heap more heat in it.

What Sort of SHOES Do You Want?

Call at our store and answer the above question if you want a good winter pair of shoes.

Hinkle Bros., 110 West Market St.

C. M. Vanstory & Co., The Home of Fashion.

Men of fashion find our stock replete with nobbiest importations. Clothes are the outward expression of your taste. "Costly thy habit as thy purse can buy, but not expressed in fancy; rich—not gaudy, for the apparel oft proclaims the man." The truth is always the strongest argument. Pleasing our patrons makes life pleasant for us.

A Good Combination:

WEAR The looks of clothing may be a temporary availment, but if good service be not with them, they'll never please you.

FIT A poor fitting garment, no matter how the material, should not be worn by an up-to-date dresser.

STYLE A suit needs this to catch the eye and aid you in appearance.

PRICE Uniting the foregoing elements in clothing to sell at prices to suit the times is just exactly what we are doing.

A Taste of Winter.

Soon you will need something heavier in the furnishing line. Remember that while summer was here we were looking after your wants. All you have to do is to come see how well we have provided for you. With us you will find everything up-to-date. Not yesterday, but today, tomorrow.

Liberality and fair dealing, good merchandise and moderate prices, have been the corner-stone of our success.
